Examples of activities organized by student organizations related to sustainability (Chirchik State Pedagogical University, Uzbekistan)

Chirchik State Pedagogical University actively promotes sustainability through numerous initiatives led by student organizations, primarily the Youth Union and the Young Ecologists Movement. These programs aim to raise environmental awareness, encourage responsible behavior, and inspire active participation in building a sustainable campus community.

During the year, several key activities were implemented:

“Mendan keyingi 1000 qadam – seniki” Project – A student-led motivational campaign designed to cultivate environmental responsibility and promote sustainable habits among the youth.
